POSITIVELY DISGRACEFUL.

Governor Russell "Curses Out" a Raleigh Newspaper Man.

In this morning's Raleigh Post, we read of a scene in the Governor's office yesterday, which, in the eyes of decent people and lovers of dignity in official positions, adds another scandal and disgrace to the long list already perpetrated by the present state administration.

Mr. Henry Bagley, city editor of the Times-Visitor went to the executive office yesterday morning to introduce Lieutenant Harlow, a United States army officer detailed in Raleigh. Mr. Bagley left Lieut Harlow in the executive office and went out saying he would return in a few minutes and conduct him to the Adjutant General's office. Bagley went out, but in a moment was called by Executive Clerk Fowle saying the Governor wanted to see him. Below we quote Mr. Bagley's version of the affair:

"To my surprise, as soon as I entered the room, Governor Russell stepped out from his desk, saying in loud tones, accompanying his expressions with profanity. 'You are the man who published an article slandering a white lady at my house, I order you out of my office.'

"I replied that I had never slandered any lady or any one in his house.

"He then became furious and stepping back to his desk, putting his hand in the drawer where his pistol was seen, said, 'It's a lie, you slandered a white lady and printed lies.'

"I retorted that I had never printed lies about anybody or anything and that no matter how big the man was, Governor or not, he could bully me and that what he said was a lie.

"He repeated his order that I should leave his office and I said he could order me from his office and that I would leave, but never without making the statement that he had lied.

"When I said this, he was still standing in front of his desk and was talking loudly and profanely, his right hand fumbling in his desk drawer, and I could see from the way he held his hand that he was fingering a pistol.

"He again ordered me from his office, saying I had printed a slanderous lie on a lady, and I again repeated to him the statement that he lied.

"Infuriated, he almost shouted 'You can't insult me in my office, sir!' and in reply, I said, 'I know I can't insult you in your office. You can't be insulted. Nothing I could say would be an insult to you.'

"With this I left his office and returned to the office of Private Secretary Cade who asked me to go out in the rotunda with him. There he attempted to persuade me that the Governor was mad and would regret it, and that I should let the matter drop. He acknowledged that the Governor, besides keeping the pistol in his drawer, kept a double-barrel shot gun loaded in his office, saying that the Governor was liable to be attacked at any time. He said he didn't believe in that sort of quarrel and hoped I would keep the matter quiet. While talking to me, he received a summons from the Governor and upon his return, he said the Governor wished to apologize if I didn't write the article referred to. I told him I wished no such apology; that at the time of the publication of the article, I was editor of the Daily Times, and no matter who wrote the article, I assumed responsibility for all articles published in that paper."

Now, isn't this a pretty dish to set before the people of North Carolina? This writer is not and will not be surprised at anything the present accidental governor of North Carolina may do. He is capable of anything scandalous or disgraceful.

Governor Russell said in a speech in '96, when he was a candidate for the office he now disgraces, that "it would be just as sensible for strangers or northern capitalists to rent a ten acre lot in hell for a summer resort as to look for hospitality in North Carolina under a democratic administration."

Beautiful language that for a man to use on the stump while asking for votes. It was a direct slap in the face of four-fifths of the white people and property owners of the state.

Yet the slanderous, venom-pointed arrows of Russell, the candidate, pale into insignificance beside the hideous, scandalous and disgraceful record he is making as governor.

It is admitted by Rev. Baylus Cade that the governor keeps himself surrounded by firearms. With these conditions the chief executive of North Carolina sends for an unarmed newspaper man, and that man the brother of the late Ensign Worth Bagley, and with his hand on his pistol insults him in the above described manner.

Intensely disgusting! Extremely disgraceful! The governor a common "thug!" Shades of such men as Vance, Settle, and Scales, hover around the old commonwealth!

People of North Carolina, contrast the acts of Russell with those of Zeb Vance. Think of what we are now subjected to and what a dazzling and brilliant contrast would have been an administration under the superb and peerless Judge Settle.

TRINITY HIGH SCHOOL.

Change in The Faculty—Its Future Prospects.

Mr. D. H. Littlejohn, of Charlotte, succeeds Prof. R. M. Vestal, who leaves to complete his course. Mr. Littlejohn took his degree this year at Trinity College and comes very highly recommended as a young man of fine character and thorough scholarship. While in college, he took a high stand ranking with the best men of the class. He stood first in several branches of study. He was elected by his society as one of the representatives in preliminary contest for inter-collegiate debate held at Raleigh during the past year.

Trinity High School is fortunate in having secured a man of such scholarship to take this place. Mr. Littlejohn will probably have charge of the Greek, Latin and German department.

Prof. Jno. F. Kirk, who was elected headmaster for next year at the recent meeting of the board of trustees, has already been in the field for more than a week and is making every effort to make next year the most prosperous in the history of the institution. He will make a thorough canvass during the summer. He reports that he is very much gratified at the prospects for next year. He has decided to add at least one man to last year's faculty.

Mr. Lee G. Underwood, of Norwood, will have charge of elementary science classes and the higher classes in primary department.

Miss Emma White of the primary department and Mrs. Nannie A. Craven of the music department have been re-elected.

CORNELL WINS.

The Ithica Lads Triumph Over The Blue and The Crimson.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New London, June 23.—Perfect weather prevails here for the big college races. There is every appearance for a successful contest but a rumor is afloat that a difference between Cornell and Yale may cause a hitch. Following the general rule it is believed the race will be run this afternoon at two o'clock. The freshman race follows the varsity. Cornell's crews are the favorite in both events.

12 m.—The conditions for the race are the best, the water is as smooth as glass with not a breath of wind blowing. The crews are in the shells at the starting point awaiting the signal from the starter. Cornell's crew is wildly cheered. Yale's supporters are enthusiastic. The wearers of the crimson are noticeably quiet.

1 p. m.—The three crews got away without a hitch at 12:37 with Harvard leading, Yale second and Cornell third. At the quarter Yale had taken the lead by half a length with Cornell second. The end of the first mile found Cornell leading Yale by half a length and Harvard two lengths behind. The second mile Cornell led Yale by the same distance and Harvard fell three lengths behind. Cornell was slowly but surely pulling away from Yale and rowing a strong and steady stroke.

The third mile Cornell was two lengths ahead of and Harvard four lengths behind Yale. Cornell's plucky little crew won the race three lengths ahead of Yale and eight in front of Harvard. Cornell's time for the four miles was twenty-four minutes even.

SIX THOUSAND NOW IN CAMP.

Miles May Lead the Attack on Santiago—Relief Corps will Join Admiral Sampson.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Baiquiri, Wednesday afternoon, 5 o'clock—At this hour six thousand trained American soldiers are in camp on the hills. Ten thousand more are resting on their arms aboard the transports ready to land as soon as available launches and boats can be arranged to carry them ashore. Time, sea, and weather are all propitious for the invasion. The navy and army have co-operated splendidly. The insurgents have shared in the enterprise honorably and well. Five thousand of the Cubans are in the mountain fastnesses, thickets, ravines and lay last night on their guns carefully watching every road and mountain path leading from Santiago making it impossible for any Spanish soldiers to gain admittance to the city or even approach near it.

MONADNOCK SAILS TODAY.

San Francisco, June 23.—The monitor Monadnock and the collier Nero will sail from here for Manila this afternoon.

MILES TO SANTIAGO.

Washington, June 23.—It is stated on the best of authority that General Miles may go to Santiago and personally superintend the attack and capture of the city. Much anxiety is felt in regard to the outcome of the attack as the forces of the Spaniards have been recently augmented and are larger than when the Shafter expedition was dispatched to Cuba.

English Coal Supply Short.

Washington, June 23.—The continued strike of the Welsh mines has reduced the English supply of coal to such that the best English lines of steamships have been forced to rely on America for their coal. Large orders have been placed with American dealers.

Mr. P. Ketchman of Pike City, Cal., says: "During my brothers late sickness from sciatic rheumatism, Chamberlain's Pain Balm was the only remedy that gave him any relief." Many others have testified to the prompt relief from pain which this liniment affords. For sale by C. E. Holton.

CONCORD BOYS WIN.

Greensboro Loses the First Game of the Series.

The game of base ball between the Greensboro and Concord teams yesterday on the latter's grounds resulted in a victory for the home team. It is not necessary to look far to see the cause of Greensboro's defeat—a lack of hits and a big bunch of errors are the reasons. The features of the game were the battery work of Weddington and Oldham and a home run drive by Mangum. The score was Concord 14; Greensboro 2.

The teams lined up as follows:

Concord	Greensboro.
Weddington	p
Oldham	c
Reed	1b
Misenheimer	2b
Fisher	3b
Caldwell	ss
Fox	rf
Mangum	lf

Why not let General Weyler throw a trocha around the Spanish cabinet?

M. Hanotaux may now be said to be the latest recruit to join the peace-at-any-price brigade.

It is quite in order for General Blanco to cable his deepest sympathy to General Von Rabe.

No doubt Secretary Gage is beginning to realize how it feels to have congress on one's hands.

Since Cervera failed to annihilate Sampson and Schley, Sagasta now turns to the cyclone for relief.

It does not necessarily follow because General Miles travels around with a bath tub that he is any Diogenes.

The report of the battle of Manila has not yet reached the Pope, for the health of His Holiness continues to improve.

It is very unkind of the Queen Regent to overshadow the brilliant victories of Almirantes Cervera and Montajo by the gorgeous preparations for the king's confirmation.

It can't well be gainsaid that the war has not brought about some very unusual combinations. Even Colonel Bryan and Sheriff Cleveland are agreed on one subject.

Among the strategic moves of Gen. Blanco it is a little odd that there is no mention made of the employment of certain celebrated rain makers who made their appearance in this country some years ago.

Premier Sagasta should call his cabinet together immediately and appoint another court of inquiry to investigate whether it was an internal or external explosion that sank the schemes of General Macias.

After a great deal of unnecessary talk the rank of Lieutenant general is to be revived. Since General Miles has his light hidden under a bath tub it is not at all improbable that General Shafter will receive the coveted honor.

The other day a young lady in the Nutmeg state, during an animated conversation, suddenly lost her voice and since then has been speechless. Oh, that some one would only get Senator White to throw a little more animation into his speech on the Hawaiian question!

J. Pieront Morgan is evidently under the impression that he exhausted his patriotic resources when he deprived himself of his yacht, for a sum, when his country stood in such dire need of it for he has not evinced an inordinate desire to come to the aid of his country and take the new issue of bonds off the secretary's hands. Perhaps he was too busy doing other charity work to hear the call.

The following outrage has actually been perpetrated:

Milwaukee has decided to exclude married women from the holding of positions as teachers in the public schools.

Call the mothers congress in extraordinary session immediately! Let not a traitor live! The advancing army under Major General Mary Lease must strike for their liberty and rights. On to Milwaukee!

Dewey is apparently less fortunate than his fellow admirals and he is now treading alone the paths of glory. Not content with ending the poor man's torture with two L. D. degrees, and his picture displayed on boxes containing unusually vile cigars and bottles filled with mean whiskies, numbers of sentimental young ladies have inundated him with requests to deliver lectures before them during the winter. Despite these hardships the number of candidates for admission to the naval academy has not decreased.

The Kansas populists have brought down upon their unoffending head the righteous indignation and condemnation of their republican friends. With many sneering remarks and biting criticisms the republican press has seen fit to treat that plank of their platform which advocates the state providing "insurance protection against fire, lightning and tornadoes at cost." Is it not as logical for the state to provide insurance protection to certain business interests as it is for the government to protect the "infant industries" against foreign competition?

General News in a Nutshell.

Representative W. W. McIntire, of Baltimore, who has a fad for collecting unique historic relics, has secured possession of all three of the flags which floated over the capitol when congress declared war against Spain. Mr. McIntire has been applying himself to the task of getting these ensigns for weeks.

Capt. Charles King, a name well known to readers of military novels, is now no longer a proper appellation since President McKinley has made this favorite author a brigadier general.

A conscience stricken resident of a small town in Maine recently sent ten cent postage stamps to Secretary Day, with the explanation that they were to replace stamps which, being imperfectly cancelled, he had unlawfully used a second time.

A new form of accident insurance policy, guaranteeing the holder against the consequences of the damage he may inflict upon others, is being issued in Paris. Parisian drivers are notoriously reckless; and they look upon this method of protecting themselves at small cost as a good thing.

The British museum has acquired for its reading room a fac-simile of the original manuscript of Bret Harte's poem, "The Heathen Chinese," which first appeared in the Overland Monthly, of San Francisco, in September, 1870. The alterations in the manuscript show that in those days Bret Harte rubbed plenty of "mental elbowgrease" into his work.

The battle of Manila Bay and the bombardment of Santiago have furnished the fireworks artists with a new field for the exercise of their skill this year, and both of these events will be reproduced in many municipal celebrations on the Fourth. One New York firm is making set pieces of the battles, forty by one hundred feet, showing the forts, tropical landscapes and ships. Dealers are receiving hundreds of orders for fire portraits of Dewey, Sampson and Schley and pyrotechnical reproductions of Old Glory.

First Regiment Paid.

Jacksonville, June 22—North Carolina troops were today paid off, and tonight they are happy. It took twenty one thousand dollars to pay off the entire regiment from the time of mustering in to June 1st.

The Second Illinois and Second Virginia Regiments were also paid off. In consequence the streets are tonight crowded with soldiers.

LINNEY ADMITS DEFEAT.

Romulus Zig-Zag Says He Will Lose the Nomination.

Winston, June 22—Your correspondent learns from a reliable source that Congressman Linney of this district has admitted to Congressman Skinner that he is already beaten for renomination. He has been advised that Burke and Caldwell counties refused to endorse him in the conventions held by the republicans of those counties. Surry and Alleghany have instructed for ex-State Senator Marshall. My informant says he can name the man who will be nominated, but he prefers to wait a few days before making an announcement.—Morning Post.

If We Only Knew!

If all nursing mothers could only know the true worth of Mrs. Joe Persons' Remedy, a world of suffering and trouble would be saved. It is the greatest medicine I ever tried in my life. I have a large family of children, and I do believe I am indebted to Mrs. Joe Persons' Remedy for having raised them all. When anything is the matter with my children I give them the Remedy, and there is never any need to give them soothing syrups, paregoric and things of that kind. The Remedy keeps them well and healthy, especially when teething, and they never need anything else. One of my babies had sore eyes, so that the eyes had to be kept shaded all the time, and the Remedy cured her. I cannot say too much for it. If everybody knew what it would do, and cry it, a world of suffering would be saved.

BOTANY BAY HISTORY

THE TRUE STORY OF THE NOTORIOUS SOUTH SEA SITE.

No Convict Was Ever Landed There, No Settlement Ever Made There, and It Has Never Had Anything to Do With England's Penal System.

The first convict fleet sailed away from England in May, 1787, called at Rio Janeiro and arrived at Botany Bay early in January, 1788. In the fleet were a 20 gun frigate, an armed tender, three storeships and six transports, for the largest fleet that ever sailed to the South sea, though the largest vessel measured only 450 tons and the smallest only 270 tons.

On the six small transports for this long, tropical voyage were packed convicts numbering 564 men and 192 women. There were also carried 168 marines and 10 officers, a few surgeons and mechanics, the wives of 40 of the marines and 18 children, the offspring of convicts. Approximately 1,000 persons therefore went to found the colony in the newest world less than 110 years old. Captain Phillip of the British navy was placed in command of the expedition and given a commission as governor and captain general of New South Wales.

It is easy for the visitor of today to understand the blank dismay that Phillip must have felt when the fleet sailed into Botany Bay and he saw for the first time the place which had been recommended to him as the spot for settlement. It had been selected by the advice of Captain Cook, whose botanists had been so delighted with the profusion of new plants they found there that they had given it the expressive name. Phillip found on first examination that a more unsuitable site for a new settlement hardly could have been chosen. The bay was shallow, there was no good anchorage, there was no good water, and the adjacent land was not fertile, except for botanical specimens.

Leaving the fleet anchored in the bay, Phillip started up the coast in his tender to hunt for a better home. Nine miles to the northward he found himself facing those great gates now known as Sydney head, which Cook had seen from a distance, and, satisfied with Botany Bay, had marked on his chart as a possible harbor for small boats. Phillip rounded the south head and was amazed to see opening before him the bays of Port Jackson—Sydney harbor now—famed the world over as the finest harbor in the seven seas and disputed for that distinction by few. Three days of exploration left no possible doubt that this was the place to be selected, and Phillip returned at once to Botany.

The fleet was standing out of the bay, when two French frigates appeared in the offing. They bore an exploring party under Comte de la Perouse, without hostile intentions, which was an immense relief to the colonists. Botany Bay was left to the Frenchmen. They refreshed and refitted there, staying until March, and burying on shore one of their company, the naturalist of the expedition, who died of wounds received in an encounter with the natives of an island they had touched. A few months later the French expedition was shipwrecked, and every one of the crew was murdered by the natives of Vanikoro, one of the Santa Cruz islands. In 1825 a monument was erected by the French government to the memory of the commander of the expedition at Botany Bay.

This is all of the story of Botany Bay, a name long infamous because of its association with convict transportation. No convict ever was landed there, no settlement ever was made there, and it never had anything more to do with the "system" than I have related. It is a circular bay, with an entrance so wide as to leave it almost an open roadstead. The shores are flat, low, sandy and uninteresting.

When I went there not long ago, the tide was out and the beach was foul with all sorts of drifts. One peninsula, which juts between the bay and the ocean, has been reserved for noxious trades, and they will allow the obelisk erected to the memory of Captain Cook, so that in the future the bay will be no more savory than its name has been, unjustly, in the past. The French monument is at the other side of the entrance to the bay.

It was the 26th of January, 1788, when the fleet of Governor Arthur Phillip entered what is now Sydney harbor. The settlement of the continent of Australia was begun.—Chicago Record.

He Should Have Brought Them.

A doctor tells a good story in connection with a lad who, until recently, was in his employ. It was part of his duties to answer the surgery bell and to usher the prospective patients into the consulting room. One morning there presented himself at the surgery entrance a mechanic with whom Buttons was on speaking terms.

"Hello, Jackson!" he remarked. "What's the matter with ye?"

"Oh, I just want to see the doctor," replied the visitor.

"Have yer brought yer symptoms with yer?" inquired Buttons. "That's the first thing he'll ask yer about. If ye ain't brought 'em, ye'd better pop back, an get 'em. He won't be down for a quarter of an hour, an he's awful pertikler about 'em!"

"And would you believe it?" adds the doctor, "that fellow was actually about to act on the boy's advice when I entered the surgery!"—Pearson's Weekly.

The citizens of Berlin have a summary method of stopping the dangerous practice of carrying sticks and umbrellas horizontally. As soon as a man tucks his umbrella under his arm he will promptly feel a quick blow on it from behind. There is no use in his getting angry with the person who strikes the blow, because public opinion sanctions his conduct.

A VIRGINIA LYNCHING,
The Victim Resisted and Was Shot In The Jail.

Richmond, Va., June 22.—News of a lynching in Hillsville, Carroll county has just reached here. Some weeks ago a farmer named Howlett had a land dispute with a neighbor named Allen and shot and killed him. Howlett was arrested and jailed at Hillsville. Monday morning about 2 o'clock, a mob entered the jail and took possession of Howlett for the purpose of hanging him. Howlett being a powerful man, resisted desperately, and finally the leader of the mob gave orders that he be shot. The order was obeyed and Howlett's body, after being riddled with bullets, was left lying in the jail yard. The mob then dispersed. Howlett shot Allen from a tree, and it is said that public sentiment in Carroll justified the lynching. The sheriff had notice of the assembling of a mob Saturday night, concealed the prisoner there and thought the matter had blown over.

LOVE'S OWN.

Where Love built his humble nest
Tired and thankful did I rest.
Sweeter rest there could not be,
Though the black night covered me,
And Love whispered, "Art thou blest?"
And I answered, "Love is best."

Where Love built his nest I knew
Thorns beneath the rose leaves grew.
Sweeter roses could not be,
Though the keen thorns crept to me,
Yet I folded to his breast—
And I answered, "Love is best."

Where Love built his nest a blight
Blew from lands of Death and Night.
All that life had held of sweet
Lay in ashes at Love's feet.
Yet I folded to his breast—
Weeping, whispered, "Love is best."

So, with Love abiding still,
I am Love's, to do his will,
So his lips on mine are laid,
So his hand my couch hath made.
Still he whispers, "Art thou blest?"
Still I answer, "Love is best."
—Atlanta Constitution.

ARTIST AND CRITIC.

The Former Owes a Debt to the Latter, Although Seldom Acknowledged.

The debt which the artist owes the critic is not a small one, nor is it any the less actual for being commonly lost sight of. It is a current belief that the public is educated by the mere existence of the good work of art, and not by the elucidation of its commentators. Education by absorption is perhaps the most deep going and far-reaching form of education, but it has never been found practicable to rely upon it solely in other branches of mental acquisition. Then why believe that it can be relied upon solely for the proper development of the art sense? In effect it never is and cannot be. How many people care about poetry, let us say—feel it, are reached by it? And can one doubt that if a more loving and careful analysis of such of its products as appear today were undertaken by critics competent to convey to an indifferent public the perennial value of its ministrations, some of the unresponsiveness of the average reader would disappear, and some perception of the eternal significance of the poet's message would extend to the classes now given over to nothing more tonic in the way of reading than the daily newspaper? We say that one is born with the feeling for the enjoyment of poetry and another is not. Not so. At least, to say this is not to say all. The feeling for the highest aesthetic enjoyment and appreciation is cultivable, and cultivable as is any other faculty, by studying the material to be enjoyed, by reverently conning its constituent parts. In short, a vague, dreamy delight in the presence of some beautiful work of the artistic spirit is not enough. It is not enough for intelligence, it is not enough especially to produce the atmosphere of interest which stimulates the painter, the musician, the writer, to sustained effort and keeps him true to the pitch. We love best what we know best. To rest in loving without knowing is often the merest sentimentality—a sentimentality toward which our Germanic forefathers had always a leaning, while it was especially antagonistic to the lucid Greek and Latin spirit.—"The Superfluous Critic," by Aline Gorren, in Century.

The Horrors of Nervousness.

Those who are going through the indescribable terrors of this dreadful disease, require no description of the agonies they constantly suffer. But why suffer? Good blood gives good nerves; and gives good blood. It is a nerve strengthener and restorer, the efficacy of which cannot be over-estimated; when it is learned that its absolute freedom from poisonous drugs or opiates, makes it safe for use in the hands of sick or inexperienced persons, there is an increased appreciation of it. JOHNSTON'S SARSAPARILLA is a specific for impoverished or impotent nerves; it feeds the nervous system to high health, provides for physical and brain endurance, cheerfulness, happiness and energy.

Our thirty-six page illustrated book contains some interesting facts on Nerve Exhaustion. It is free for the asking. Quart bottle, $1.00.

Clothiers and Haberdashers,

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

S. H. Davis went up to Winston today.

Of course you are going to take your girl around to the lawn party tonight. The young ladies are making special efforts to give all a nice time at the lawn party tonight.

During the hot months you want the richest and coolest feed for your stock. Read Kolner's penny ad.

Party wants to buy a modern house for cash, centrally located in Greensboro. See ad in this paper.

The Greensboro market house is not growing very fast these days. It appears to be no larger now than it was years ago.

One hundred and twenty-six recruits from New York and Philadelphia passed through this morning en route to Fort McPherson.

Noyes and George Long, of Chapel Hill, passed through this morning returning home from a two weeks fishing trip to Bryson City.

Where is loafer's alley? At the top of a drum, or the sound of a brass band, or a common dog fight a whole regiment will appear on the streets.

Do not forget the lawn party tonight given by the Young Ladies Aid Society of the Baptist church at Mrs. Cooper's on West Washington street.

Why not agitate the matter of establishing a paper mill at this place and thus secure another industry and utilize all our old rags instead of shipping them away?

The prices quoted in the big ad of the Fishplate-Katz-Rankin Co. speak for themselves. You are only asked to read the ad and if the values there offered doesn't appeal to you then you do not want to buy clothing.

Peter H. Kelly and Asa L. McIntosh of Moore county, who have been here the past week attending court as witnesses left for home today. They expect to visit us again next court, as the case in which they are witnesses was not tried.

Wanted—some live man to start up a steam tannery and shoe factory in Greensboro. We now pay the freight on leather going and coming. Hides have to be shipped away and then shipped back again in the manufactured product.

Ice cream, cake and other delicacies will be served on the lawn of the Cooper house, opposite the Baptist church on Washington street tonight. The proceeds will be used to aid in building the new Sunday school room of that church. Let everybody go out and help the ladies tonight.

Marshal Millikan and deputy left at noon today for Raleigh with the five prisoners from Charlotte who have been in jail here for the past few days. Three of the number are white men who go to the pen eighteen months each for illicit distillery. Two were negroes who go for one year each for passing counterfeit money.

Electric Headlight.

Those who were at the station last night when the northbound vestibule passed through saw an unusual sight. When the engine rounded the curve beyond the old freight depot the whole platform around the station was flooded with light. When the train drew up to its customary stopping place it was seen that in the place of was ordinary oil lamps in the headlight a large incandescent globe of high candle power. Two other globes were in the engineer's cab. It is said that the new lights enable the engineer to see a half a mile down the road. This being the case the list of accidental killings should be shortened. It was impossible to learn whether the current was furnished by a storage battery or a dynamo in the baggage car.

Another.

The ladies of the town seem to be exerting themselves this week to give our citizens attractive places at which to spend an hour or two pleasantly these summer evenings, when everybody loves to be out doors, especially with the accompaniments of bright lights, gay music, ice-cream and agreeable social intercourse. Another opportunity for such enjoyment will be afforded tomorrow (Friday) evening by the lawn party to be given in the yard of Mrs. W. A. Winstead on West Market street, by the ladies of West Market street church aid society. All come and have a good time and help the ladies.

The Cooking Contest.

The cooking contest by the little girls for the Buck junior range, will take place tomorrow and Saturday at the store of Greensboro Hardware company. J. W. Scott & Co. will furnish their favorite brand of flour, Snow Drift, and their Clover Hill butter; G. W. Denny, the best Java coffee and some fine Barbadoes molasses; John J. Phoenix, the celebrated cream baking powder and cottolene. The china ware will be from E. M. Caldwell & Bro. Everybody is invited and especially the ladies.

Colored Volunteers Wanted.

The Greensboro colored company now numbers about 45 men. A meeting will be held this evening in the court house to secure additional members as Capt. Dellinger is anxious to recruit his company up to the necessary number. He received the following telegram yesterday:

J. E. Dellinger, Greensboro, N. C.: Be ready to move with sixty men in a few days. Answer.

A. D. Cowles, Adj. Gen.

Capt. Dellinger answered that his men are scattered but they will be ready to go when called. No trouble is anticipated in securing the necessary complement of men. The other colored volunteers in the state are stationed at Fort Macon.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns, and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by C. E. Holton.

Ran the Blockade.

Oh, for a ton or two of ice, And a cool refrigerator box To cool my feet—it isn't nice To wear my shoes without my socks. The above is not, pure and simple; but the man who composed it was smart enough to run the blockade of the press censor, and on this account we publish it.

Banister's Shoes.

The Carolina Shoe Co. are sole agents in Greensboro for Banister's fine shoes. They are "korrek styles." Call and see them. S. B. Norris, Manager.

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other one cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house, the stealthy fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. For sale by C. E. Holton.

In Court Circles.

The case of High Point Development company vs. Wheeler & Welch has been tried and a verdict rendered in favor of the defendants. Wheeler & Welch will receive the $50 they paid as part purchase money for some lots together with interest from last March.

The case of Henderson Reed vs. Southern railway is now occupying the attention of the court. Reed was a section hand on the road between here and Brown Summit. In placing a new steel rail in place he alleges the other workmen carelessly let it fall on his foot, causing him great injury and pain. He is suing for $2000 damages. A long jump was made this morning on the calendar by continuing about a dozen cases.

I was seriously afflicted with a cough for several years, and last fall had a more severe cough than ever before. I have used many remedies without receiving much relief, and being recommended to try a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, by a friend, who, knowing me to be a poor widow, gave it to me, I tried it, and with the most gratifying results. The first bottle relieved me very much and the second bottle has absolutely cured me. I have not had as good health for 20 years. Respectfully, Mrs. Mary A. Beard, Claremore, Ark. Sold by C. E. Holton.

Onward and Upward.

This should be the slogan of every citizen of Greensboro. Better streets kept cleaner, sidewalks repaired and swept, mud holes condemned and the cause removed. We should never be content with existing conditions, but always strive to improve, to make what is good better, the bright brighter and the clean cleaner. Hold together and pull together. Keep the city on the up grade.

Don't Make a Mistake

which you will ever afterward regret, and fail to make the necessary provision for cleanliness and health. Viewed from the standpoint of comfort, you can better afford to leave off your front porch than you can a bath room. We have everything necessary for getting up your bath room in the best style, at moderate cost. A Porcelain Tub is so luxurious that it would seem that "none but the wealthy can afford it," but that is not true, for the price brings it within the reach of even a small pocket book,
